

BAR ELEVEN

ABOUT BAR ELEVEN

Bar Eleven Productions is a full-service creative house & production company led by four industry professionals, specializing in television and film projects related to, helmed by and geared towards women and marginalized communities. We are the creators and purveyors of specialized content such as scripted dramas and comedies, documentaries, and talk shows.

OUR AUDIENCE

- Ages 18-45, inclusive of all races and gender identities
- They are corporate professionals, educators, entrepreneurs, artists, entertainment industry representatives, journalists, published authors, and freelance bloggers, stay-at-home-parents.
- Tech savvy: High usage of Twitter, Facebook, Soundcloud, Tumblr, LinkedIn, Instagram, Pinterest and other social media tools

WHO WE ARE

Kay-B is a co-founding member of Bar Eleven Productions, writer, host, and content creative. A lover of great films and TV, she credits some of her greatest influences as The Imitation of Life, ER, The Practice, Friday Night Lights, Happy Endings and The Good Wife. She loves to see dynamic stories told by and for women and underrepresented communities. Her work on all things pop culture as a writer, podcaster, panelist and on-camera host, can be found at entertainment outlets and podcast shows such as Black Girl Nerds (she interviewed Oprah and it is on the podcast, y'all!), Just About Write and The Show About Nothing. She has covered red carpets, press conferences and experiences at events such as: San Diego Comic Con, FanX Salt Lake, the Toronto International Film Festival, and the Sundance Film Festival. She has done TV spot and on-camera interviews with celebs such as Idris Elba, Kate Winslet, Matthew McConaughey, Neil Patrick Harris, Drew Barrymore, Timothy Olyphant, Spike Lee, DeWanda Wise, Justina Machado, and many more that you can check out here: Kay-B's On-Camera Playlist! You can find her frolicking on Twitter, and if she's not there, she's either knee deep in a new TV show or out trying to figure out how to make a move to Wakanda a reality.

Joi Childs is a co-founding member of Bar Eleven Productions, brand marketer, and film critic. Joi loves the intersection of marketing, nerdiness, and tech. She's been a film critic for Black Girl Nerds for two years, and her words have also been seen in The Hollywood Reporter, The Verge, SYFYWire, Cassius Life and Blavity. She has covered red carpets and press conferences at events such as the Toronto International Film Festival and the Sundance Film Festival. You can find her cracking jokes on Twitter or offline trying to finish a draft deadline or overcoming a mountain of emails at her day job.

Lauren Warren is a co-founding member of Bar Eleven Productions, screenwriter, and filmmaker. She is also the founder of and head creative at Validictorian Productions. She lists her earliest film influences as Aliens, Terminator 2: Judgment Day and Die Hard. She enjoys creating content for television, film, print and the web with female leads, lots of explosions and weapons, and representative of the real world. Her words on gaming, music and the entertainment industry can be found on her personal site and the pop culture blog Black Girl Nerds. Her thoughts on film and additional commentary on the industry, film, television and video games can be found on CBC Radio One's All In A Day, Offworld/BoingBoing, Real Feminist Stories, podcasts (Geek Homeworld, Black Girl Nerds, GameEnthus, Geek Soul Brother, Not Your Mama's Gamer), YouTube and Periscope live broadcasts. She's done red carpet press coverage at the Toronto International Film Festival and is the co-host of Nerds of Prey, a bi-weekly nerd culture podcast.

Kyndal Wilson is a writer, content creator, and co-founding member of Bar Eleven Productions. She is an avid reader and a lover of musicals, television and movies, crediting The Crown, Jessica Jones, The Vampire Chronicles, X-Men (cartoon and comics), and Downton Abbey as some of her biggest inspirations. She loves historical dramas, fantasy, science fiction, and all things whimsical and Southern Gothic, but wants to see more authentic representations of people of color, and specifically women of color, in these genres. Her work as a pop culture writer, entertainment journalist, and podcaster can be found on the entertainment outlet Black Girl Nerds, where she has interviewed Charlize Theron, Jon Hamm, Margot Robbie, Orlando Jones, Jason Momoa, Bryan Fuller, Michael Green, Luke Evans, Angela Robinson, James McAvoy, and more. She also has extensive photography, red carpet, and press experience at events such as: SXSW, San Diego Comic Con, and the Toronto International Film Festival. You can find her here on Twitter and Instagram, and when she's not creating stories from her wild imagination, she's taking pictures, enjoying a new television series, or fully immersed in a new book.

SAMPLE BAR ELEVEN PROJECTS

A weekly, late-night talk show with hosts Lauren and Kay-B. Together, they have a passion for entertainment, technology, diversity and inclusion and a voice that stands out from their male counterparts. .

After the election of Darth Vader, three friends sell all of their things and cash out their savings to move to Spain. As the 90 day visa deadline approaches, they have to figure out how to make their stay permanent.

Stacy - a Trans woman of color and college basketball coach - is fired after an incident with a student that is not at all what it seems. She and her family are forced to relocate to a small town and smaller school to reset her career and clear her name.

Eva has a quarter-life century crisis, quits her job in finance in Manhattan and moves back to Atlanta to live with her newly widowed mom, Dana. As both of them navigate the next steps in their lives, they become each other's confidante, wingmen and relationship counselors.

For more information:

✉ BAR11PRODUCTIONS@GMAIL.COM

COPYRIGHT © 2018 BAR 11 PRODUCTIONS, LLC.

ALL RIGHTS RESERVED. NOT TO BE DUPLICATED WITHOUT PERMISSION.

The sale, copying, reproduction or exploitation of this material in any form is prohibited. Distribution or disclosure of this material to unauthorized persons is also prohibited.